GEO. W. HAINES, - Editor and Proprietor.

$1.50 in Advance; $2 if not Paid in Advance.

Independence Day!

The Baptist Sunday Schools of Shenandoah Junction and Martinsburg will picnic at Island Park July 26.

In the annual readjustment of the salaries of West Virginia postmasters the Charles Town postmaster is reduced from $1,800 to $1,700.

For July 4 special excursion rates will be given to all points on N. & W. R'y. Tickets on sale July 1, 2, 3, and to 10 a. m. July 4, good for return passage till July 7.

Mr. Charles Broadway Rouss has authorized Mr. Chas. L. Crum, of Winchester, to have the iron fence around Mt. Hebron Cemetery painted and send him the bill for payment.

Schley Day (naval victory at Santiago) was observed yesterday by floating the stars and stripes over the two towers of the Rouss Memorial Hall building by the Independent Fire Company.

The people of Berryville voted Thursday, 124 to 20, in favor of issuing bonds to the amount of $25,000 to purchase the property and franchise of the old Berryville Water Company and complete the works.

We return thanks to Secretary R. S. M. Hoffman and the Directors of Morgan's Grove Fair for an invitation to attend an advisory meeting to-day at "Pountain Rock," the beautiful new grounds of the Morgan's Grove Association.

At the recent commencement of Hampden-Sidney College Rev. Dr. Pitzer, of Washington City, was elected president of the board of trustees, and also president of the alumni association, to succeed the late Rev. Dr. Hoge, of Richmond.

Page Andrews, of Shepherdstown, who has been attending Woodburg Forest High School in Virginia, won a scholarship in Washington and Lee University, and will continue his studies at that famous school next year. The scholarship is worth $300.

The Ninth International Convention, Baptist Young People's Union, Richmond, Va., July 13-16, 1899.—For the above occasion the N. & W. R. Y. Co. will offer for sale, on July 11, 12 and 13, round-trip tickets at one first-class limited fare for round trip, and make limit of tickets July 31.

A lady friend (and we coincide with her) thinks it a hard lot for store clerks to be confined from early morn until nine or ten o'clock at night during the hot summer months, with no opportunity for recreation or improvement. Close the stores at 8 o'clock during July and August, and give the boys a chance.

Mr. Charles Broadway Rouss has, with his proverbial liberality, contributed toward a monument to be erected at the Virginia Military Institute to the cadets who fell at New Market May 15, 1864—an undertaking in which Ex-Senator C. J. Faulkner, a member of the cadet corps at that time, has been a prime mover.

Miss Sam Gibson gave a morning card party at her home on South Samuel street on Tuesday last, in honor of her guest, Mrs. Woolsey Aspinwall, of Washington, D.C. Among those present were: Misses King and Goodloe, of Lexington, Ky.; Miss Spears, of Paris, Ky.; Miss Charlotte Ransom, of Staunton, Va.; Misses Floride Brown, Louise Baylor, Emily T. Cooke, Frances Wendling, Lena Dawson and Julia Alexander, Mrs. Chas. A. Johnson, Mrs. Cruger Smith, Mrs. Wm. Campbell, Mrs. Wm. Nell, Mrs. George Porterfield and Mrs. Wm. B. Packard.

The base ball game played at Martinsburg Wednesday, between Martinsburg and Charles Town teams, resulted in a score of 8 to 5 in favor of the former.—The Charles Town team was crippled by the absence of some of its best players.—The game was very fast throughout, Martinsburg making three double plays.—The features of the game were the fielding of W. Standley and Kearns for Martinsburg and the pitching of G. Moore and Coe for Charles Town.—Batteries: Charles Town, S. Moore and Kennedy; Martinsburg, Young and Kearns. A return game will be played here on the 14th.

In accordance with a resolution of the 22nd Annual Council, meeting in Trinity Church, Hanover, June 7-10, 1899, and acting under the provisions of Article VI and Article VII of the Constitution, the Bishop and the Standing Committee of the Diocese of West Virginia unite in calling a special Council for the purpose of electing a Bishop Coadjutor for the Diocese; and to transact such other business as may be brought before them. Said Special Council is called to meet in Christ Church, Clarksburg, on Wednesday, July 26, at 10 a. m.

GEO. M. PETERKIN,
Bishop of the Diocese.
G. A. GIBBONS,
President of the Standing Committee.

We are pleased to transfer to our columns, from the Shepherdstown Register, the following well-deserved tribute to one of our most estimable citizens:

"The Shepherd College catalogue just issued contains a full page portrait of our respected fellow townsman, Hon. George M. Belthoover, who has been continuously secretary and treasurer of the college since its organization in 1872, also continuously a member of the executive committee of the normal school since the first appointment of this body in July, 1873. Mr. Belthoover is the only survivor of the seven incorporators of Shepherd College under charter of November 30, 1871. The incorporators and original board of trustees, as they appear in the charter, are: W. W. Andrews, A. R. Boteler, C. T. Butler, Geo. M. Belthoover, David Billmeyer, Samuel Knott, Henry Shepherd. His record has been one of exceptional efficiency and faithfulness throughout all these years, and his services cannot be overestimated. We hope he may be spared yet many years to adorn the position he has so long and so creditably filled."

RECENTLY ERECTED ROUSS PHYSICAL LABORATORY, UNIVERSITY OF VIRGINIA.

MR. ROUSS' TAUOLOLEUM
To Be Erected At Winchester, Va., His Former Home.

(Special to the Baltimore Sun.)

WINCHESTER, VA., June 27.—Mr. Charles Broadway Rouss, the well-known New York millionaire merchant, will have erected a magnificent mausoleum on his lot in Mount Hebron Cemetery, this city. It will be completed by May 1 next, and will cost over $50,000. The designs are those of Charles E. Tayntor, of New York, and work will begin at once. Upon the same plot of land where the mausoleum is being erected Mr. Rouss, at a cost of $15,000, built a monument in the shape of a beautiful granite shaft that rose 52 feet, and is one of the most beautiful monuments in the South.

The style of the mausoleum is Greek Doric, and an idea of its form and structure can be gained by the statement that it is a reproduction of the Parthenon, following the proportions of the original more or less closely, but with a scale of one-fourth the size.

The approach to the mausoleum on all sides will be made by three stone steps. The peristyle will consist of 28 solid columns, weighing nearly five tons each, and they will rest on the third step. The porticoes of front and rear will be supported by four columns each, making in all 36 columns.

The bodies of the father, mother, wife, sister and son of Mr. Rouss, who are buried at the base of the monument, will be taken up and put into the mausoleum, where Mr. Rouss has told his friends he desires his body to be placed.

The Citizens' Fire Company will go to Martinsburg to-day by teams across the country.

Mr. Peter S. Hinton, aged 75 years, died at his residence near Middletown July 24, after a lingering illness.

Messrs. Wm. H. and E. H. Reinhart shipped last week from this place 800 lambs to the New York market.—Sheep, Ind.

The Mayor, Fire Marshal and Charles Town Band will accompany the Independent Fire Co. to Martinsburg to-day, via B. & O. R. R.

Mr. L. A. Osburn has come into possession, through the kindness of Mr. J. Ran. Rodrick, of a saddle's knife used in the old Isler shop, which he now occupies, two-thirds of a century ago.

Harry Parr, the well-known horse dealer of this place, yesterday sold to J. S. Coleman, of Middletown, W. Va., two standard-bred black horses, named Miss Mary and Lady Elmont. The animals are beauties, close mated and of fine action.—Hanover (Pa.) Daily Record.

Mr. W. B. Davis on Thursday captured a tarantula which fell from a bunch of bananas received at his store, and now has the deadly insect preserved in alcohol in a bottle on his show-case. Mr. W. S. Merchant also found a large tarantula in a bunch of bananas last week, and killed it.

Little Harry Langdon, of Myerstown, shot a pigeon supposed to be a common one of his own, but which proved to be a carrier with a brass ring on one leg and a silver one with "K-42584" on the other. Under each ring was printed, "If caught or shot report to Fred K. Wilson, Glenolden, Del. Co., Pa.," which he did.

In noting the marriage of Hon. John W. Davis and Miss Lillian McDonald, the Clarksburg News, Mr. Davis' home paper, says: "At the extremely youthful age of twenty-six he has won the reputation of being one of the finest lawyers in the State. Last fall he was elected to the Legislature from this county. No young man in West Virginia has as bright a future as has John W. Davis."

Mr. C. N. Coleman, local agent of the Deering machine people, not only made a big parade a few weeks ago, but has made sales this season aggregating forty-one binders and so far twenty-two mowers—a showing that speaks well both for the machinery sold and the enterprise of the local house that has put such a large number of binders out.

Beachley.—Kanode.

St. John's Episcopal Church, Ripon, was the scene of a beautiful and attractive wedding Wednesday evening. The church was filled to its utmost capacity with friends.

Killed at 7:45 o'clock the bridal procession followed the church to the sweet strains of Johanna's wedding march, beautifully rendered by Miss Katie Shebberidge, of Summit Point, and proceeded to the altar, which was beautifully and tastefully decorated with potted and cut flowers, where the rector, Rev. H. England, united in the holy bonds of wedlock, Mr. Edward Lester Beachley, a young business man of Manassas, Va., and Miss Ellen Rebecca, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Kanode, of Ripon. The bride was attired in dotted swiss, over silk, with white ribbons, and carried white prayer book, presented by her pastor, from which the ceremony was performed. The maid of honor, Miss Lulu M., sister of the bride, was attired in dotted swiss, over silk, with pink ribbons, and carried pink carnations. The bridesmaids, Misses Lillian Mies Osborne and Esther West, performed their part to perfection, entering the church just in front of the bride, each carrying a basket of lovely flowers, of which they strewed in her path. Upon leaving the church, Mr. John Smith, of Holivar, Md., cousin of the groom, acted as best man. The nuptials were witnessed by Mr. C. T. Butler, Geo. M. Belthoover, David Billmeyer, Samuel Knott, Henry Shepherd. His record has been one of exceptional efficiency and faithfulness throughout all these years, and his services cannot be overestimated. We hope he may be spared yet many years to adorn the position he has so long and so creditably filled."

Woman's Home Missions.

Cooper, Keeseletown; Roanoke, Miss Lulu Combs, Roanoke; Moorefield, Miss Maggie Ball, Romney; Lewisburg, Miss Nellie Peck, Covington.

Eight auxiliaries were organized during the past year, the total number now being thirty one. Plans were discussed looking to the enlargement of the mission and relief features of the society.

Describing the Davis-McDonald wedding the Shepherdstown Register says: "The ceremony took place on the spacious lawn of the homestead, beneath the great oaks which had looked down on four generations of the bride's ancestors, before a sylvan chancel decorated with flowers, approached by an aisle formed with wreaths of daisies and myrtle, through which the bridal party marched in procession and recessional."

Grand Tournament.

Mathena will be present and preserve good order. Everybody come and have a good time.

Removed.

I wish to inform my friends and the public generally that I have moved in the new room now being fitted up for me in the Hagley building (a few doors from Rackett store) about April 1st. I anticipate a very large spring trade, and will use my best efforts to raise and maintain the standard of custom garment making to the highest level possible, in order to counteract the many spurious imitations of legitimate tailoring that have been foisted upon the public. As to my new samples for the coming season, it is hardly necessary for me to dwell on them. All I can say is that I used the very best ability and matured experience in selecting a complete assortment of styles and qualities. I promise you also in the future, as in the past, the same courteous and liberal treatment, and last, but not least, a perfect fit.

Yours &c.,
C. E. REININGER.

From the Dayton Evening Press of last Thursday, June 22nd, we take the following notice:

"The home of Mr. and Mrs. K. E. Taylor, of Centerville, Ohio, was the scene of a very pleasant wedding yesterday afternoon. The groom was Stanley A. Trussell, of New York City, who claimed the hand of Miss Mary Taylor, of Centerville, Ohio. The ceremony was performed by Rev. H. L. Hart, of Dayton. Among the guests were Alexander Taylor, father of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. Marion Taylor, of Dayton, and other relatives and friends. The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Trussell wish them happiness and prosperity in their future home, which will be in New York City."

The groom is a native of Charles Town, and is engaged with the Merchant's Dispatch Transportation Line, New York City. With his bride he is sojourning a few days at the home of his mother near town. We tender hearty congratulations, and wish the young couple much happiness.

To Clothing Buyers.

There is a great beating of tom-toms now-a-days, large spread-eagle advertisements to weekly worry the patience of newspaper readers, fences, trees, &c., used to tell where big money is to be saved in buying clothing, gents' furnishings, shoes, &c. It takes money to carry on this kind of warfare, and kind reader ask yourself this simple question, Who pays for the music? In every instance the consumer most undoubtedly. Our expenses in this line are not so much as competitors, and the money thus saved is given the buyer in a reduction of prices on all goods purchased at our store. We still maintain that we are leaders in low prices, and so long as we enjoy the large increase in trade accorded us this far this season, more than convince that the public at large concedes that our claim is just. Our stock is exceedingly bright and showy, of tasteful designs and finish and in endless variety. Don't forget our claim, "money saved."

We established our business here some five years ago on these very two words, and we stand firmer on this foundation to-day than ever. If there are still any doubting ones, we cordially invite them to call at our clothing emporium in the Hagley building, corner Main and Charles streets, fully convinced that we can sell clothing, gents' furnishings, shoes, hats, &c., at least 25 per cent, cheaper than any other house in Jefferson county.

The Washington Star paid the following tribute to Mrs. Charlotte Stockton Johnson, daughter of the late Hon. A. R. Boteler: "There was many a heart ache at the Postoffice Department this morning when she left intelligence came. Everybody loved Mrs. Johnson. She was the recognized champion of the oppressed, the leader in all charitable works.—She often said she lived to do good, and those who knew her best realize that her mission was well performed. From the highest to the lowest in the big department came expressions of grief. Yesterday she was bright and cheerful. She closed the day with an appeal for the promotion of a fellow clerk, and left the world with the regret that she had not accomplished her purpose in this regard."
